

Individual Contribution Award

Mr. David Guinasso

Defense Procurement Acquisition Policy (DPAP)

Business

Defense Procurement and Acquisition Policy

Press Release
June 2012

Mr. David Guinasso

David (Dave) Guinasso is the Department of Defense's resident expert on contract administration, receipt, and acceptance processes and is a critical member of DoD's procure-to-pay working group. In 2011-2012 Mr. Guinasso's leadership was instrumental in the development of the Department's Business Enterprise Architecture (BEA) version 9.0 which implemented a number of detailed processes not present in earlier versions. Mr. Guinasso has also led efforts to improve the traceability of government furnished property; establishing several standardizing policies for use across the Department. At the federal level, Mr. Guinasso has initiated efforts to expand the use of Wide Area Workflow (WAWF) to civilian agencies in support of a common acceptance and invoicing platform; and worked closely with the Department of Treasury to identify necessary supporting standards. These successes have positioned the government for significant improvements in traceability, efficiency, and auditability.

